LAW

Digital Communication and Law

Digitalisation transcends everything in our communication: 'who', 'what', 'how', 'when' has changed – just like the rules deciding on the 'who', 'what', 'how' and 'when'. We provide the tools and the skills to get the necessary understanding of what's going on. Will you steer such innovation processes in the future? This programme offers an intense, international, multidisciplinary room for reflection, high-level lectures, hands-on digital exercise in one of the world's most beautiful cities. Spend a month on transformation in communication and law with senior industry representatives and leading academics and learn about best practices that will overcome the changes all of us are faced with.

European and International Business Law

The LL.M. program focuses on the European and international legal framework for internationally operating enterprises and the relevant economic governance issues. A special emphasis is put on European Union business law as well as the enterprises' legal position, when doing business within the European market or internationally. The program is of special interest for persons who are affiliated with or plan to work for internationally operating business law firms or enterprises, government agencies, business lobbies or any other European and international organizations.

Human Rights

The one-year (60 ECTS) postgraduate program "Human Rights" has a clear jurisprudential profile. It will provide for insights to theoretical legal questions and also convey practical skills that are necessary for working in the field of human rights.

Based on the academic excellence of the University of Vienna and on the high reputation of the Ludwig Boltzmann Institute of Fundamental and Human Rights for conducting applied research, the program can best be described with the words: "Where Science Meets Practice!"

The master program is aimed at law graduates for the LL.M. program, as well as graduates from other disciplines for the MLS program, and employed persons, e.g. in public administration, academia, the education sector, NGOs and civil society or the private sector (corporate lawyers, attorneys, legal trainees, consultants) who want to specialize in human rights.
